Seven The Courageous

In

The House Of Darkness

Authorized by:

The protected by Allah

The rain of that winter was very heavy and the strong wind was hitting the doors and windows of our knight Seven's house..

The knock was continuing, it looked like the wind had wanted to get into the house..the wind wistled and said:

- Seven.. Open!

Seven shoock his head saying to himself:

- No, No.. That's impossible.. maybe I'm imaging.. the storm effected my hearing..

But the wind repeated:

- Seven, Open.. Seven.. I'm your old friend!

Seven stood up wondered and opened the door daringly.. he ammazed when he saw Six "the merchant" instead of the wind..!

Six greeted Seven and entered the house quickly escaping from the rain.. when he sat down near the heater, he started to talk:

- Seven, my dear friend.. please help me..
- Well .. What's the....?

Before Seven completing his talking, Six interrupted him and started to explain his problem:

- I'm a merchant; merchant as you know.. not like any merchant; I'm jewellery merchant of course.. my jewelleries are precious; very precious!

Seven: Well.. I don't see any problem with that!

Six: I was in my big caravan..

Seven: Which included only your wagon?

Six : Yes, How did you know?!.. Were you with the thief?

Seven: No, but the jewelleries don't need more than one wagon..

Six: Well.. Then "Master of colours" the hated thief pounced on me!

Seven: "Master of colours"?!

Six hit his face and shouted:

- Don't you know " Master of colours " the thief?!.. Well, I'll explain to you..The thief Two is called " Master of colours" because he has an amazing ability ; he can change his colours as he wants.. although, he admires colours until he stealing them!..

Unfortunately, he admired my jewelleries' colours and stole them..

Six dropped down sadly, but Seven caught him..

- Can you understand that? - Six said-.. My jewelleries.. my life..Nooooo!

Six got crying while Seven said:

- Don't worry, friend.. I'll help you, if Allah has wanted..!

Six blenched, the crying went out of him..

- Really?! ..- Six said- What do you wait?!..
Let's go!

Six went immediately to the door while Seven was looking at him amazed then he finally gave up and went with him..

.....

They both stopped in front of a large black house which has a huge gate.. six said bored :

- When was arresting on thieves from the doors?!.. at least, let us enter from the window..

- His mistake don't allow us do mistakes, too, Six.. Houses have sanctity; and it isn't allowed to anybody entering them secretly or without the door..

Six responded deridedingly :

- So, show me how will you enter , hero!

Two seconds went before the huge gate were opened wide.. it seemed like an invitation to enter..!

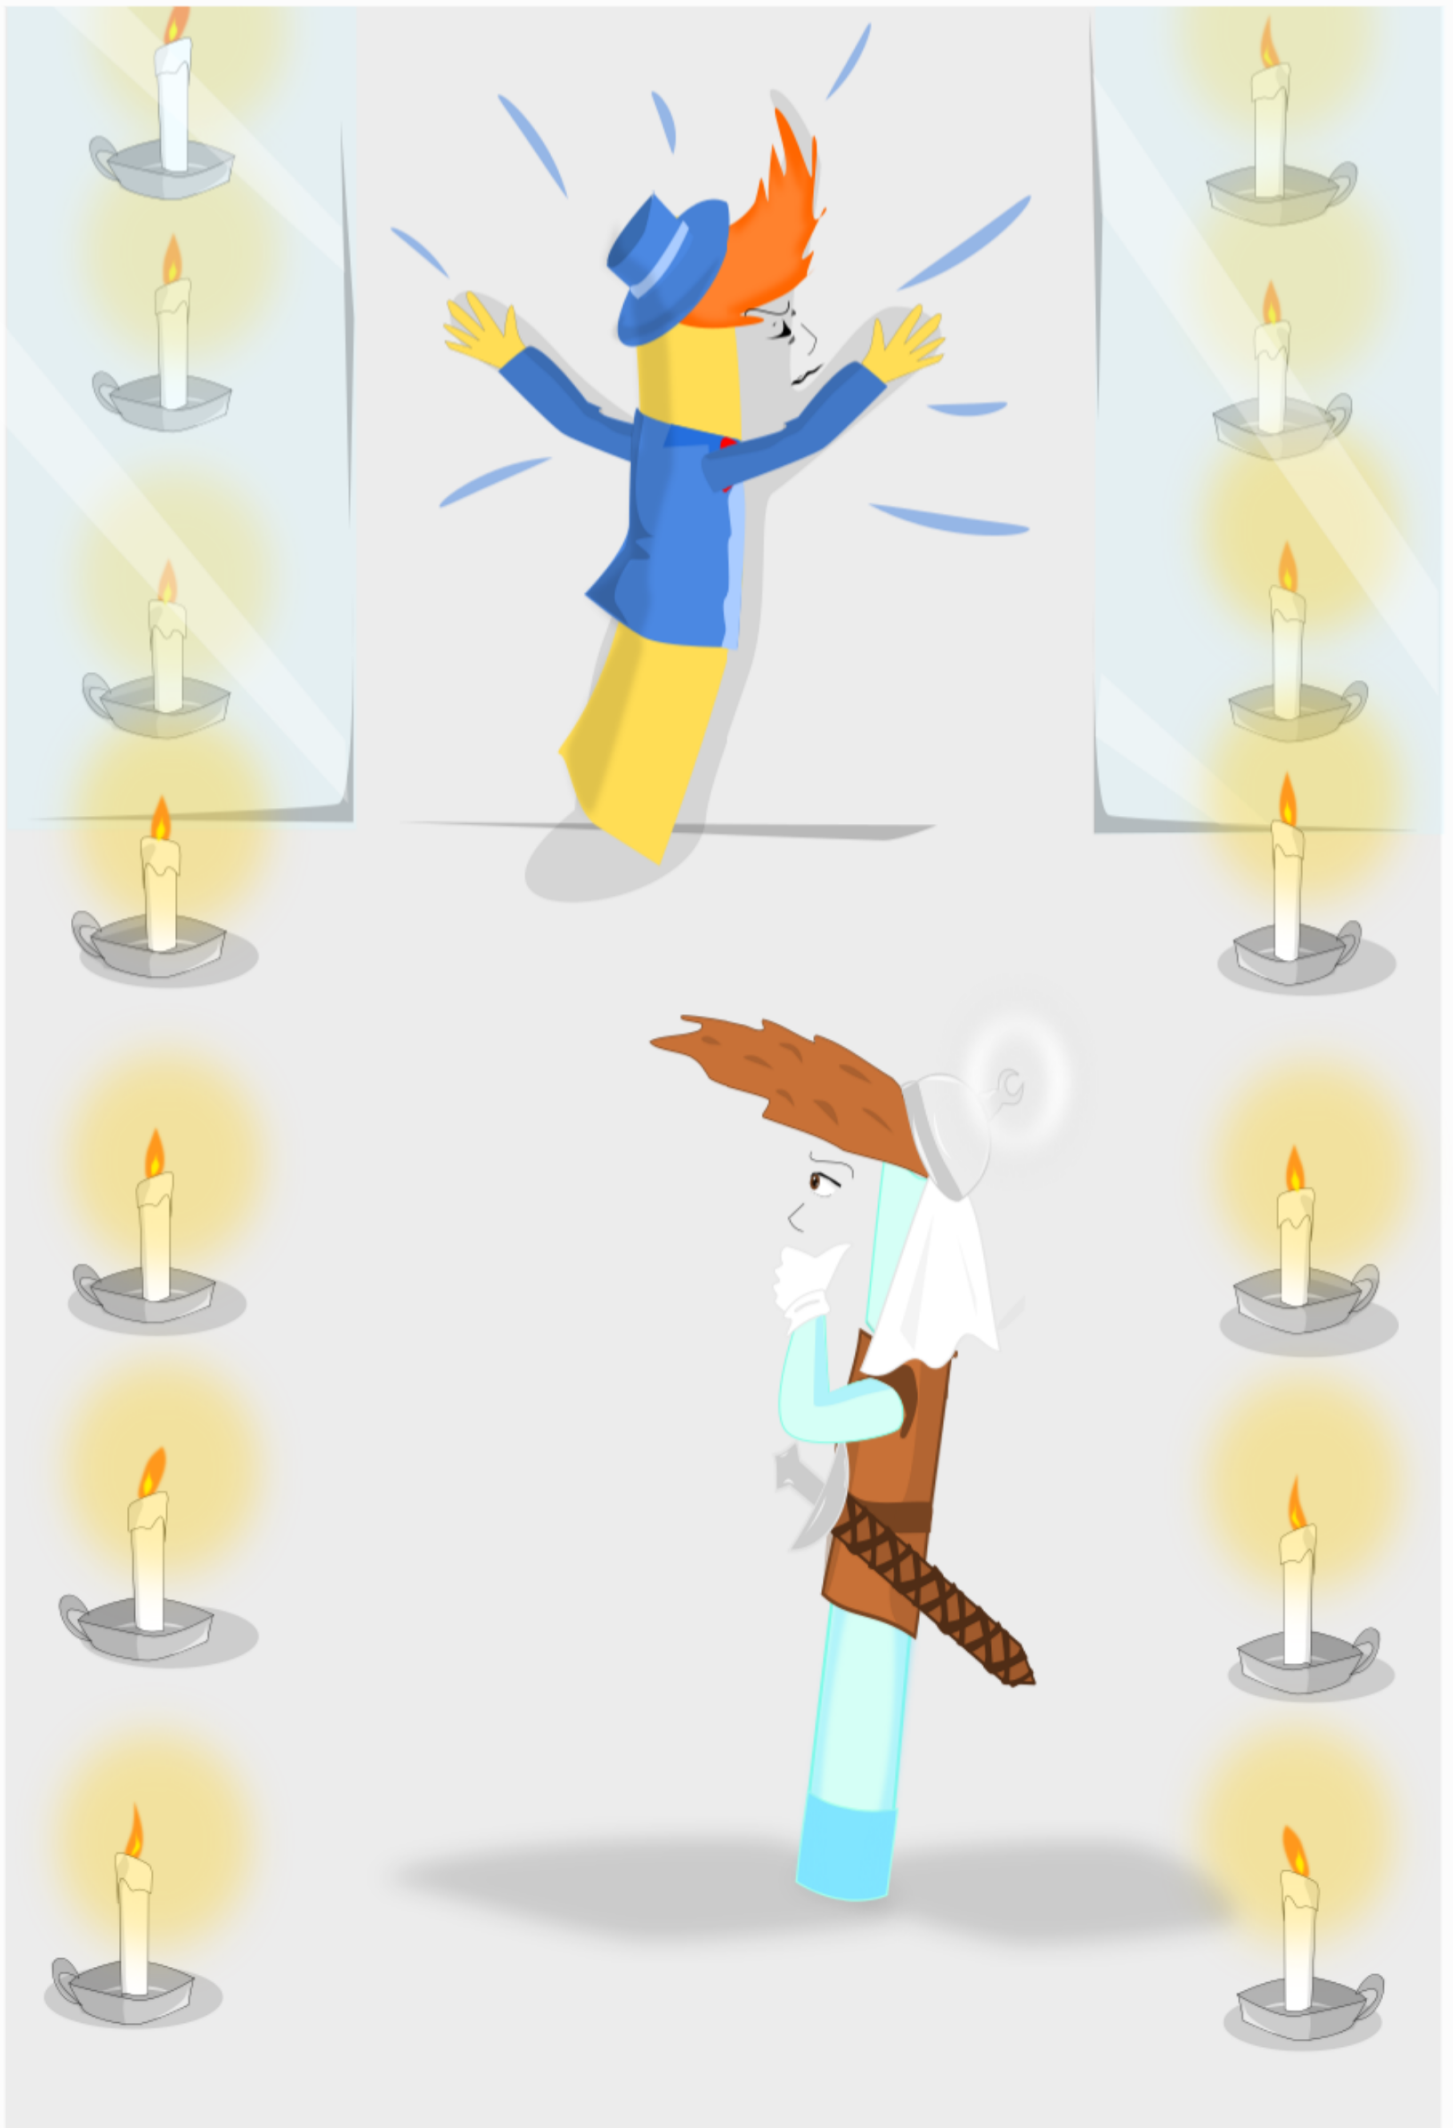

Six stuttered amazed:

- Trip!.. Certainly.. it's a trip!

But Seven entered the house at once, he didn't care..Six had to follow him but the scare and fear have filled his heart..!

The entrance was dark.. but fortunately, there were two rows of candles on the two sides of the walls..

They both were walking carefully in that dim light ..suddenly, Glossy crescent twinkled, so

Seven stopped to discover the news, while Six continued walking but..

Suddenly he bumped into a hard thing and shouted angrily scrubbing his redness nose:
- Oh!.. What's that?!.. what did I bumped into?!..I thought the way is opened..!

Six touched in front of him.. he felt quite a hard wall, though it was seeming a clear way with two lines of candles on two sides!

Six became very angry, while Seven was checking the trip carefully..Glossy crescent twinkled so an idea twinkled in Seven's head..

- Now, I understood it! - Seven shouted happily- .. Look there, there are two mirrors on the two sides of the wall, they reflects candles' images, so that makes us think the way is continued but the truth is that there are in front of us a wall with two mirrors on his two sides!

Seven smiled amazed by the idea while Six shouted:

- So where are we?!.. in the circus?!

Six hit the ground by his foot angrily, but surely he wished that he didn't, because the ground opened and they both fell down on the ground hardly..

Six shouted:

- What's happening now?!

Seven: Nothing but you have found the way..

Six: The way?!.. To where?..To the grave?!

- No, To the basement..

that wasn't Seven, Seven said nothing!

Indeed the speaker was laughing while they both were looking for him.. thier eyes fell on an eccentric number, his long hair was amazing and his cloth was strange..

But the most amazing thing that he was decorated with diverse brilliant amazed jewelries..(the drawing of number Two "Master of colours" is by indian numbers)

Six shouted: Seven look!.. Those are my jewelleries!

Seven interested, so Glossy crescent twinkled.. while Six continued :
- Seven.. Take them from him.. Take them!

Seven: Quiet, Six.. Let us understand what he wants first..

Six: Understand?!..Thieves don't understand, so they won't make you understand.. Thieves will benefit with them only hitting and unforgettable lessons..

Six went immediately to give " Master of colours " a powerful strike but unfortunately, his strike was useless; his hand hit the wall.. because it wasn't "Master of colours ", it was only a ghost!

While Six was shouting angrily, Two was laughing loudly..

- I expected that there is a trip.. - Seven said- However, he won't give himself up simply!

Six replied sarcastically: How did you know , clever?!

Seven: When my crescent has just twinkled, I noticed that Two's image faded instead of clearing..

Immediately, Two replied:

- Excellent, boy!.. You began to impress me.. This is a simple trip applicated by mirrors.. As you see, that's in the dark.. but now, we don't need it..

Two turned the lights on, so Seven and Six hide their eyes fast, then when thier eyes used to, they could see a big swimming pool filled with water..

The worst is that the water rate was raising little by little, the water was getting out the pool's edges..

Certainly, that didn't make Six relaxed, because the door was in the other side of the pool..

There was a narrow way, but if the water continued to raise, there won't be nether way, nor Seven nor Six..!

Finally, Two explained:

- Let's complete the game!.. If you want keeping your life, you should hurry and throw this arrow -which is beside you- by that arch on the pool's drain.. So be careful , if you failed, you won't have any opportunity of survive, Ha Ha Ha !!

When Six heard these words, he immediately ran toward the arrow and the arch and caught them shivering..Seven stopped him and said:
- Wait, Six.. You can't throw to the water simply..

Six: Why?.. Do you think it's possible to wait?!.. Do you desire death, Seven?!.. You don't know me.. I'm a skilful archer and I'll shoot it simply..

Before Seven can do anything, Six threw that arrow.. what a disappointment! , the poor six has failed, he started to cry at once while Seven said consoling:

- Six.. That wasn't a test for your throwing skills.. That was a test for your physical informations about the light..

The light reflects when it crosses the water..So, we can't see anything underwater on its right place; We had to throwing from under the water for a right goal..

Six: That isn't important, all of that isn't important.. The important thing -now- is that I didn't only lose my jewelleries , but also I had lost my life...

Six got crying more, while Seven took the arch, threw himself in the water and said :
- If there wasn't any getaway from the death, I won't die cowardly..!

Seven took a big breathe then went swimming, diving and wrestling the water and hardly he picked the dived sunk arrow..

Though he hadn't enough of oxygen, he caught the arch and shot at the drain which opened, then the water moved strongly..

Seven tried difficultly to resist and drifting away, so he threw his sword in order to reducing his weight.

He tried and tried.. that's the last thing he could remember..

When Seven waked, he coughed alot.. the water was getting out of his mouth.. Finally, he could open his eyes and said:

- Thanks for God who saved me with his ability!

For the first moment, he didn't realise what is around him, then he could see a person in front of him..Yes, it's Two "Master of colours"

!.. Seven shouted surprisingly:

- Two!.. Is this you?..Is that possible that you who has saved me?!

Two responded with a light smile:

- My heart didn't allow me to let a person as you dying simply..

- So, your heart is kind, not as it seems..

- Well.. It's kind, but my eyes are greedy.. I can't resist colours even they're not mine..

- Admitting guilt is a virtue if you wasn't proud of him..

Seven turned around then said:

- Six.. Where's Six?.. What did happen to him?

Two: He's in badness.. He came to getting what I stole back, but instead, he became the thief..!

Seven: Be careful, you mentioned him badly.. that deed is danger because it's unmoral..!

Two: Mention badly?!.. look at your head.. Haven't you felt it became light?

Seven put his hand on his head.. the surprise was that he didn't find his glossy crescent, he felt confusing..

- Instead of thanking you -Two said- and though you did the impossible for saving him, he stole you and ran away, but where did he ran away?.. to snakes' room.. Ha Ha Ha..!

Two burst out laughing while Seven stood fast, picked his fallen sword and went to the door quickly..

He heard Six' crying so he hit the door strongly and broke into the dark room..

Immediately the door was closed with loud noise behind him.. There, the hiss of snakes was spread..

Six: This unfaithful crescent.. Whenever you get in trouble, he was twinkling and helping you.. but he didn't try to do that with me, never!

Seven: My crescent isn't magical, Six.. It doesn't give his services to all who put it on.. It takes his power from the heart's sweetness and the faithfulness of who put him..

At this moment, a snake threw itself on Seven, but he hit it a hit made it seven parts..another pounced on Six but Seven hit it, too..

Thus, Seven killed them one after one depending on sound ward until the hiss of snakes disappeared and the room became calm..Seven shouted happily:

- Thank you, Allah!.. Thank you, my God!

Six: My dear life!.. You've come back to me!

Then Six said to Seven:

- Seven, I apologise to you for what happened..

Before Seven replies, Six effected and said angrily:

- I was gentle..Why didn't the crescent twinkle?!.. Didn't you say that it nourishes on the beautiful morals?

- Yes, but I also said : from its dresser's faithful; I mean you must be faithfully in doing morals.. not just trying them!

But thier happiness didn't continue because they heard a loud noise behind the wall.. the wall began to move horribly.. Six yelled:

- We have finished .. The wall will apply on us..!

Two laughed afar and replied:

- Not exactly.. You have a final opportunity.. you should answer quickly this three questions beside the door.. I hope Allah gives you a happy luck!

Two had laughed mocking while Six and Seven were looking hard for the questions..

Suddenly, Six shouted:

- These are.. These are.. " What's the colour that if it was added to blue, becomes green?"

Six answered nothing, he was confused but Seven said:

- When I was young, I was finding a difficulty in painting the yellow sun on the blue sky because they were becoming green..

Six: Of course, it's yellow.. Does that need thinking?!

Six pressed on the yellow button, so immediately the door opened a few then stopped.. Seven read the second question:
- "What's the colour which if it was added to blue, becomes purple? "

Seven and Six silenced and had thought but the dangerous movement of the wall didn't let them do..So, Six shouted:

- This situation is so dangerous.. So, I'll press any button lest the time go..

He pressed the second button which was red.. the door responded with a few opening..Six inflated his chest and said:

- Right!.. Blue + red = purple.. Excellent, Six!..

Excellent, hero!

Seven: No, that was God's grace and mercy,
Six.. As Two said, Allah made a happy luck for us..!

Seven read the final question:

- What are the spectrum colours?

Six: Spectrum?!.. What's the meaning of spectrum?

Seven: Well, What I remember that there're
the rainbow's seven colours.. but I can't remember what they are ..

Six: Of course you can remember that because they're seven like you, but you have to remember the important thing; the colours, but you can't!

Suddenly, Glossy crescent twinkled white twinkles..

So, Seven pounced on Six and took Glossy Crescent and Six' eye glass, then he had passed the white shines of Glossy Crescent from the eye glass like a pyramid in order to make the white light taking apart..

So, the seven colours reflected in front of them.. Six pressed the right button quickly:
Red - Orange - Yellow - Green - Blue - Dark Blue- Purple

Immediately, The door opened and they both ran outside fast and.. Boooooom!!.. the door applied behind them loudly..!

They both picked thier breath difficultly and they thanked God alot.. but..

Suddenly, the ground opened under Six and he fell down with a loud scream, then the ground was closed again as if anything hasn't happened..

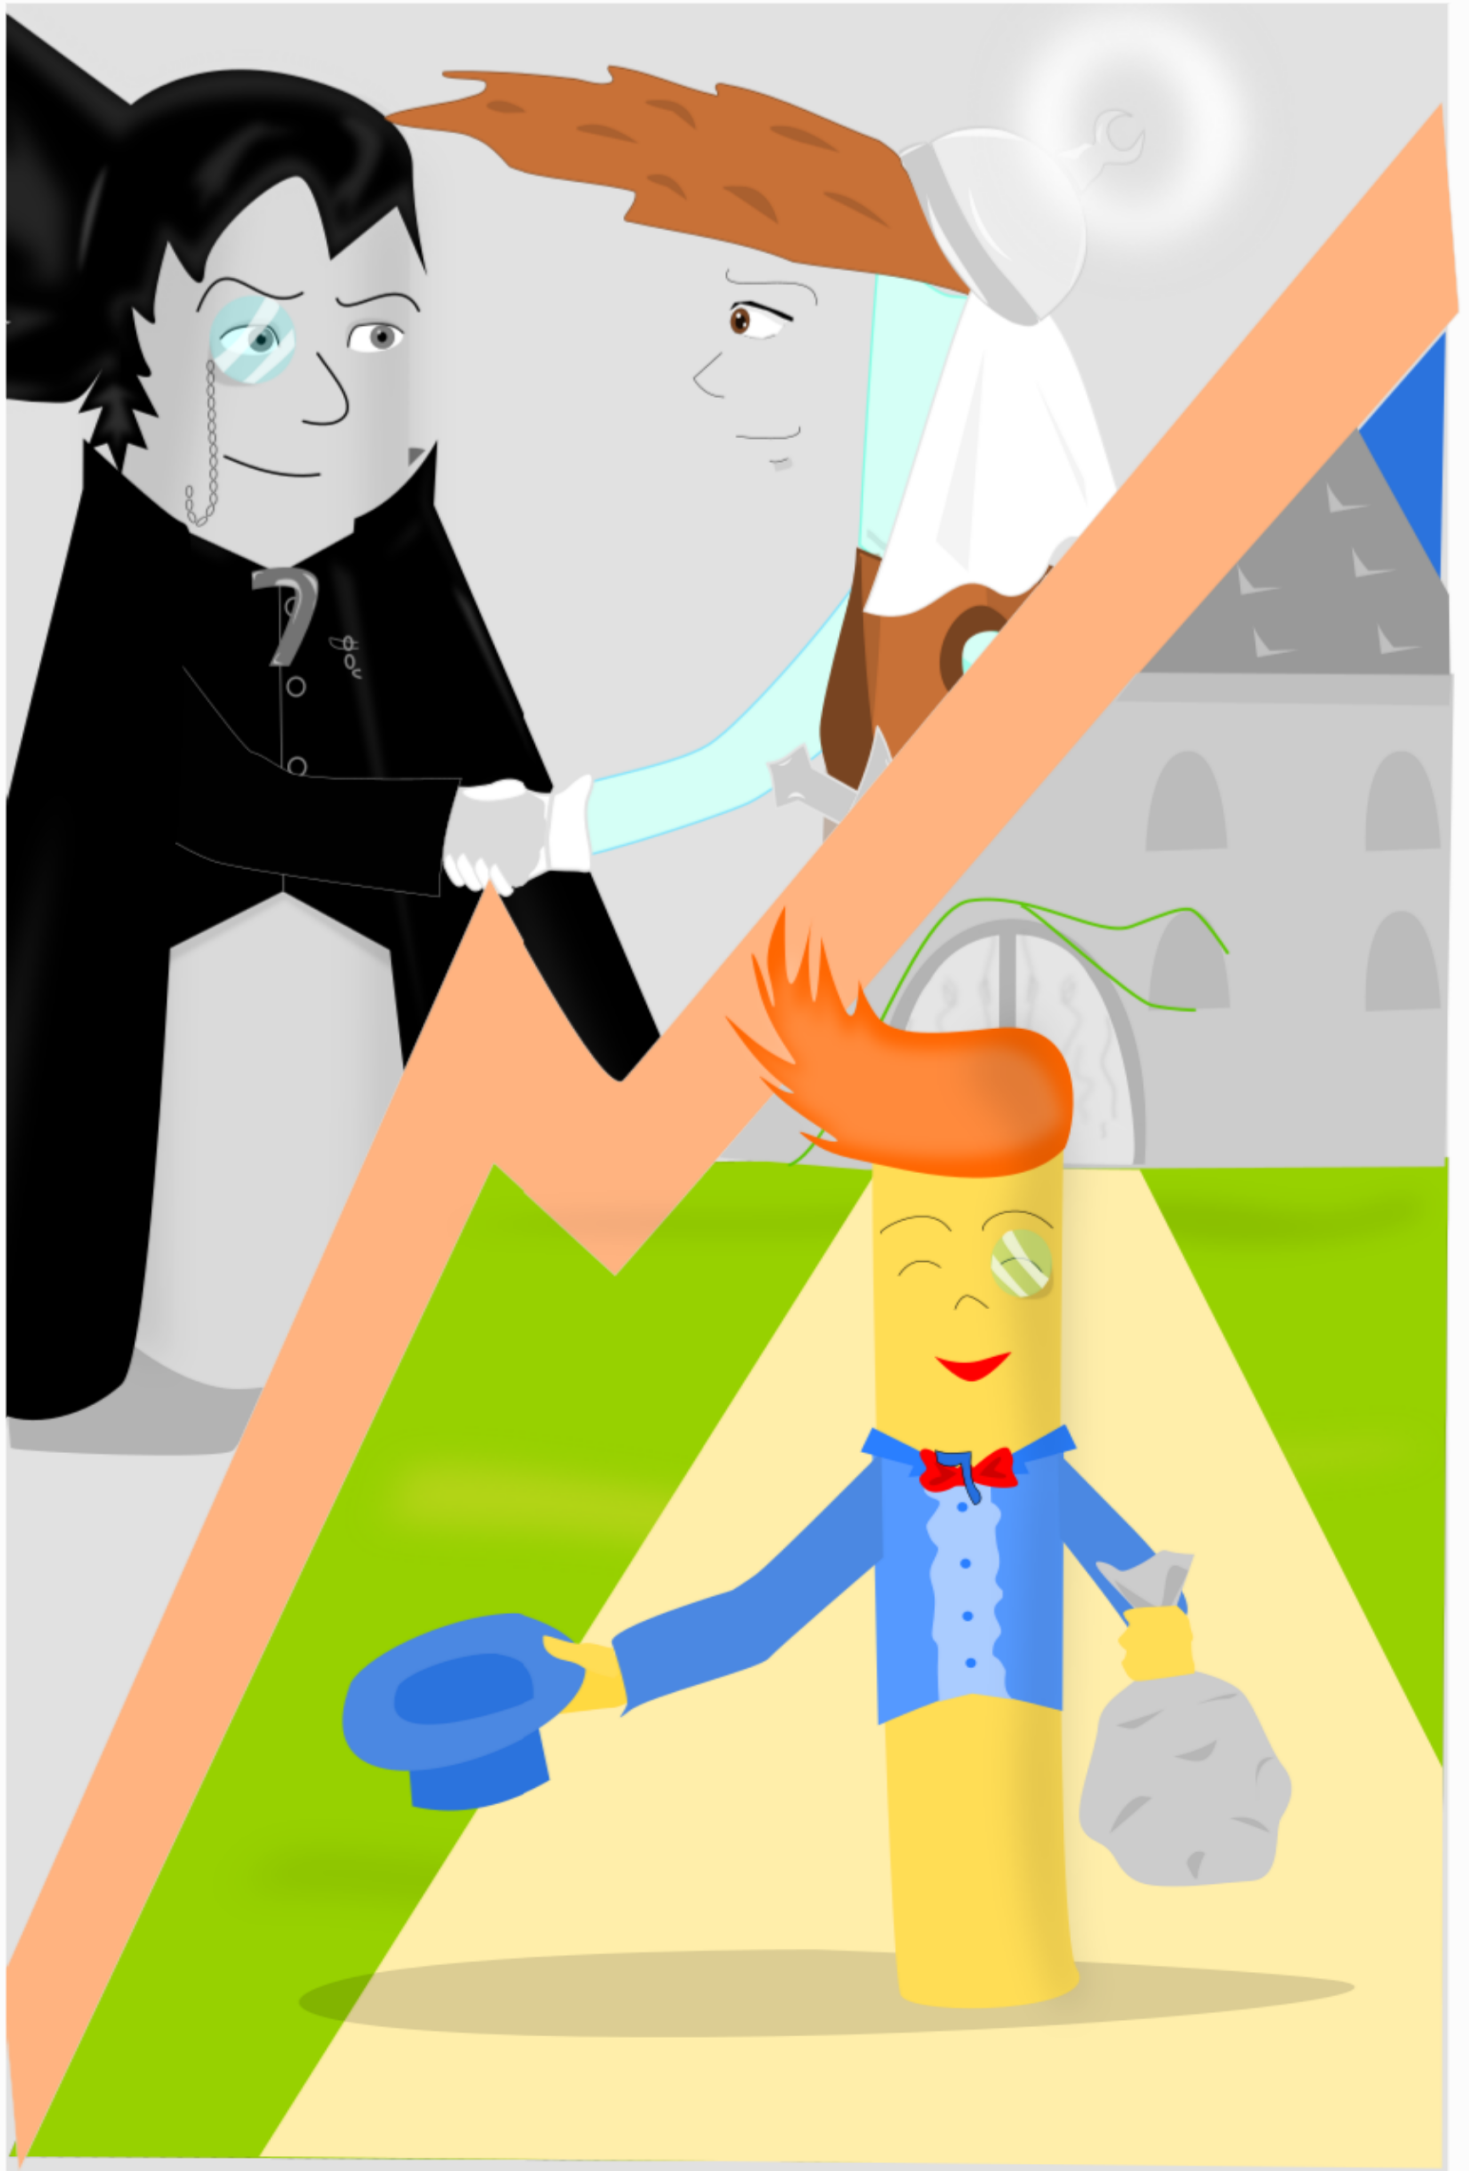

Seven looked for a way to save his friend, but he saw a guest in front of him.. and after he stared at him, he knew him, it's Two " Master of colours " he was camouflaged with the wall and catching a handle on it.. he had got it down!

After they exchanged looks, Two converted his colours to black then he closed to the window, opened it and said with sarcastic smile:

- Come on and hear!

Seven closed to the window and looked.. he saw Six, he was dancing in front of the house's fence and singing with his jewelleries - which Two had just gave him back- happily:

- My jewellers.. and my life..is more precious than any friend or enemy!!

Here, Seven closed the window with grief on his face..

- Seven, be careful of bad friends..- Two said- If you want to know him; he's who makes sins or damages the others then doesn't correct his mistakes..

Two bowed his head then continued:

- I want to say thanks, Seven.. You're a great friend.. I hope you agree my friendship..

- Of course If you stopped to stealing or harming, Two.. The colours -whatever it's beautiful and brilliant- they aren't more best than the happiness of the piety and doing good deeds..

Two: I swear to Allah then to you that I'll repent and return all the stolen money to thier owners..

Seven smiled opened his hand for shaking and said:

- Welcome for you and for everyone is like you, "Master of colours "!

So Two smiled a wide smile, shaked hands and said:

- When disaster comes, men's metals shines!!!

At these words, GlossyCcrescent twinkled an amazing shines that painted our story -which has finished - with thanks to Allah the most gracious !!!!!
